Unprecedented Number And Variety Of Exhibits Makes Flower Festival Gay Affair

Blue And White Ribbon Awards Made; Judges Amazed At Display

By Mildred Curtiss Bolms
"A kiss in the sun for pardon,
A song of the birds for mirth.
You are nearer God's heart in a garden

Than anywhere else on earth," chirped some little black words on a wooden garden sign that peeped from the potted plants over which Mrs. Carl Pegler and Mrs. George Lehner presided at Wednesday's all-day flower show at the Woman's club house.

And with this thought in mind one strode into the maze of floral beauty that many hands had created for this one of the loveliest events of the entire club year.

Against a delicately-perfumed background of one hundred and fifteen classifications, five models walked to and fro in gowns that rivaled the specimens in color and charm.

It was difficult to know which to admire, a yellow one-piece frock worn by a dashing brunette, or the basket of mixed irises submitted by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger in which the bronze, canary, maroon, and violet tints were blended together as only the Master hand is capable of.

Mrs. Pegler's snowy Callas were in this group, likewise some specimens brought in by Mrs. Harvey Steinberger, and Mrs. George Lehner, whose magnificent hybrid Amaryllis proudly bore a blue ribbon.

Then a white and blue dotted-Swiss evening gown floated by suggesting moonlight, frosted glasses, music, murmurs, and roses; it was so billowy and dainty.

Speaking of roses, the vase of red roses displayed by Mrs. Gene Holliger commanded a great deal of deserved attention, as did a brown basket of Cecil Bruners submitted by Mrs. Pulling.

In singles, Miss Leah Fletcher's pure white rose was out-standing in its pristine beauty.

The jury for the flowers, Jessie Ward Russell, Karl Hart, and Mrs. Ruth Bovard did much pondering before making their awards.

Needless to say, Mrs. R. Louis Kruger's exotic and exquisite basket of tree tulips captured a blue ribbon, likewise the snow-balls entered by Mrs. Holliger and the gilt basket of shaded iris, which caught and held the rays of light and admiration of the throng. This latter was Mrs. E. E. Bacon's offering.

The display grown and arranged by the Sierra Madre school held a fitting position of honor at the front door, for much artistry and knowledge were epitomized in the various baskets and vases of stock, sweet peas, carnations, iris and calendulas.

The cacti display sent in by James Scoville of the Sierra Madre school was also of extreme interest. And no one failed to note that unique house and cactus garden entered by Mrs. McTavish.

"Indeed, words fail to convey the entirety of the beauty encompassed in the two simple words: 'Flower Show.'"

That gorgeous flaming Bignonia cherere of Mrs. Woodson Jones' shows she is, what one would

Judges Of Flower Show Stumped By Rare Posy Layout

More elaborate and colorful than any similar affair in recent years, the Woman's Club annual spring flower show Wednesday brought out such a profusion of gorgeous garden blooms, potted plants and floral displays that it took the judges a full day to decide on the prize winners in the several divisions. ## Hoeppel's Postal Appointments Now Under Federal Eye

Congressman John H. Hoeppel, of Arcadia, was the target this week for Federal investigation again—this time in connection with postmaster appointments. Charges were leveled that in some instances cash was allegedly involved in attempts to gain postmaster posts.

"The entire investigation," Hoeppel vigorously asserted, "is another effort to force me out of politics. It was brought about by Senator McAdoo and John B. Elliott because of political enmity, and because I voted against some measures of President Roosevelt."

Hoeppel is still under investigation in connection with asserted irregularity in making a West Point appointment. Investigators from Washington have been interviewing Hoeppel's appointees and candidates for appointments, it was disclosed this week.

April's Building Drops Below 1934 But Future Bright

April's building activity in the city slumped a bit back of the same month in 1934. The total of building permits issued by City Clerk Waverly Pratt amounted to $2452, as compared to $8975 last spring. All of the work being done at present consists of minor repair jobs, but a number of new construction projects are being contemplated for the near future.

HOTEL OPENS TODAY, NEWLY DECORATED

Hotel Sierra Madre opens here today, and the public is cordially invited by G. O. McDougal, the new proprietor, to inspect the completely remodeled and renovated building. The management has been hard at work throughout the week getting the rooms ready for occupancy, and now both single and double accommodations are furnished in latest California Monterey style.

All Monterey type beds, both double and twin beds, are equipped with the most comfortable modern springs and mattresses, and every room is with bath. Decoration throughout follows the Monterey motif, rugs, curtains and walls being in cheery harmony.

In the comfortably furnished lobby is a Monterey type pay phone booth for the convenience of the public. The door right off the lobby gives convenient access to the Arcade Coffee Shop, which also is open today under the management of Mrs. D. S. Preston. Here short orders are served at moderate prices, and regular daily breakfasts, lunches and dinners offer modern cuisine.

Lee Shippey Gets Into 3-Star Book Ranks Of Authors

Three stars—Liberty's designation for excellence—were awarded Lee Shippey's book, "Where Nothing Ever Happens," in the May 4 issue of the publication. Oliver Swift, nationally known book reviewer, makes the following comment on the story:

"The author, who has seen the big world outside, finds all of life and love and hope and tragedy just outside his door in his own small town."

Sculptors' Exhibit On Here Sunday

Daisy And Rose Dickinson Bring Unusual Showing To Little Gallery

By Vernon Jay Morse
The Little Gallery has a very different exhibit during May. Portrait sculpture by Daisy Dickinson and mural designs painted by Ross Dickinson, "Mr. and Mrs.," of course, are new notes in the gallery shows.

Daisy also has some very strong painted portraits, literal character studies which show her knowledge of sculpture in the solidity of her painting. One wall of the Little Gallery is devoted to these portraits.

Ross shows decorative landscape creations in deep reds which is the piece-de-resistance of the exhibition. This picture is similar in style to the beautiful decoration which he painted when working in the memorable P.W.A.P. of 1934 which produced so much distinguished work in all parts of the country.

Included in the show are many paintings which have hung in most of the important big exhibitions in the West.

Interesting highlights in Little Gallery showing are the miniature sculptures of children which Daisy does with a real flair and dignified beauty and the mural subjects "Telescope" and "Microscope" two tall panels intended for twenty-foot walls in a hall of science and masterfully composed to accentuate height, tie floor and ceiling together and become a part of the structural scheme of the room they might some day embellish. Many fine works of art are here, the products of artists of individual artistic talents.

Sunday afternoon, May 5, from 2 to 6 o'clock, the Little Gallery will formally present both the artists and their work at the opening reception. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Vernon Jay Morse and many friends of the Little Gallery will assist in decorating, receiving and at the punch bowl. Don't forget, Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock, and everyone is invited.

Assessor To Give Extra Day Here To Serve Taxpayers

Deputy County Assessor R. J. Mills will be in the City Hall Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock to validate white slips on real estate and to help the public with late statements on personal property. It had been planned to finish assessment work here last Wednesday, but the time limit was extended for public convenience.

L A Newspaperman Moves Back Here

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowling moved this week from Los Angeles to take up their Sierra Madre residence at 373 West Central avenue. Mr. Bowling is an editorial writer with the Los Angeles Times, and he and his wife were former residents of this city. They are building a new home on West Montecito avenue between Sierra Madre and Sunnyside avenues.

Dance Pupils Will Present New Revue 'The Candy Capers'

June 7 has been the date set for the second annual dance recital of the pupils of the Caution Klunk Studio of Dancing. The revue this year will take the form of "Candy Capers on the Good Ship Lollipop." The dancers will present a varied program including tap, toe, ballet, character and acrobatic dancing. The advanced pupils as well as the younger group will appear on the program. Miss Caution and Miss von Klunk will present interpretive dances.

Permanent Camp Given Boy Scouts

City Allots Two Acres In Bailey Canyon; Herbert Hoover To Instruct

Approximately two acres of land at the mouth of Bailey Canyon have been allocated by the City Council to the Sierra Madre Boy Scouts for a permanent campsite, and this week scouting executives cooperated with the Forest Service in working out plans for necessary equipment on the site.

The acreage is on the site of the annual Camporee, south-west of the canyon picnic grounds. Although there will be no permanent tents or cabins built, plans are being drawn for tables, incinerators, and fireplaces. This will greatly facilitate the establishment of camps. When completed, the camp will be available for the Scouts at any time under supervision of junior scout masters or other local officials, according to Norman Jensen.

The regular scoutmaster's training school is scheduled to commence before the end of this month, and this year in addition to forestry and scouting training, Herbert Hoover, Jr., chairman of the Boy Scout executive committee, and himself a short-wave radio fan, will give instruction in that branch of radio science.

Junior scoutmaster appointments will not be made by the committee here until after the training courses have been completed, it is announced by Jensen. The majority of these troop assistant leaders will be chosen from the ranks of former Scouts here.

Monrovia To Donate Music For Red Cross

Music Promised On May 24 As Two Cities Sponsor Relief Fund

By Louis de S. Fuller
The symphony orchestra of our sister city, Monrovia, is planning to cooperate with the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross. They have decided to send the orchestra here Friday evening, May 24, for a performance in the School Auditorium, and a generous portion of the proceeds will go to the Red Cross, which is sponsoring the affair.

Many will recall with much pleasure the fine performance of this group at the opening of Bailey Canyon last year. We know that Harold F. Scott, the conductor, and the orchestra will receive an enthusiastic welcome. In view of their generous assistance to a cause so worthy as the Red Cross, they will deserve a large as well as an enthusiastic audience.

Here will be Sierra Madre's opportunity to have the joint pleasure of hearing an evening of fine music and of expressing its gratitude to a most humanitarian organization—the great American Red Cross. As many are unaware, the local chapter of the Red Cross is at present in a precarious state. It is unable to meet the heavy drain put on its treasury by the required $100 per month budget of relief cases. Although a number of private subscriptions keep the chapter functioning to the best of its present ability, it is up to the general public to lend every effort to the organization. This coming concert should provide an opportunity for everyone in Sierra Madre to do his part.

Variety Show And Dance Planned By The Eastern Star

Two entertaining public events are being planned by the Social Club of the O.E.S. Wednesday evening, May 8, the San Marino Girls' School, under the Social Club sponsorship, will present a diversified program of entertainment, "Variety Show," with arrangements being made by John Noble and Mrs. Alice Hogan. The show starts promptly at 8 p. m., in the public school auditorium.

A week from tomorrow, Saturday, May 11, the Eastern Star plans an elaborate "Mother's Day" dance at the Masonic Temple. Both young and old are promised an evening of fun and excellent dancing to the music of Fletcher's Pasadena dance orchestra.

Prizes are to be awarded for the best waltzing, and a fine door prize offered added inducement to the public to attend the event. Mrs. Harold Roberts and Mrs. J. F. Brain are in charge of arrangements for the Saturday affair.

Church Bible Conference Is Planned Here

Bethany Starts Two Day Program Tuesday, 11th Annual Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harkness, musicians; Mrs. Charles E. Fuller, and Dr. Louise T. Talbot, are among the 12 who will be on the program of the Eleventh Annual Bible Conference, to be held in Bethany Church next Tuesday and Wednesday, May 7 and 8. Mr. Harkness, as editor of The Sacred Musician, specializes in church music and has been instrumental in helping large numbers of persons to greatly improve their ability. Mr. Harkness will play for both evening services, and also Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Harkness, whose full, rich voice always delights her hearers, will sing solos at each session, morning, afternoon and evening of both days.

Because of her health, it is regretted that the "Mother" of these conferences, Mrs. John Lowe, will not be able to give the opening message, as has been her custom for a number of years. However, Mrs. Ford L. Canfield graciously consented to take the earlier hour, and no one will want to miss her inspiration at 10 o'clock Tuesday.

Mrs. Paul P. Stough, who just recently arrived from Africa, where she has been working under the Africa Inland Mission, will follow at 11 o'clock. At 1:30 and 2:30, two China Inland Mission workers will speak, Mrs. H. E. Fisher, and Mr. C. A. Bunting, who just arrived from China. Mr. Bunting has served 38 years in that land. At 7:30, Dr. Louis T. Talbot of Los Angeles will speak.

Mrs. Charles Fuller, well known for her "heart to heart" talks, will use that subject for her opening message at 10 o'clock Wednesday. She too, is a gifted, charming person whom no one will want to miss.

Miss Natalie Romans, so popular and able a Bible teacher of many classes, as well as the Eleri Girls' Clubs, will speak at 11 o'clock. She is always refreshing.

Miss Nadine Warner, formerly a teacher of many large Bible classes in New York, but now teaching large classes in Los Angeles and Glendale, will have the 1:30 period. Of special interest to young people will be the closing message of Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30. The speaker is James E. Mallis, an earnest young man with a dynamic personality and a vital message. He was born in India of missionary parents, and is now the representative of the Ceylon and India General Mission. This conference is interdenominational, and not restricted to women, but men and young people are especially urged to be present at all the sessions.

Wednesday evening, Dr. W. W. Catherwood of Riverside, who spoke so very acceptably last year, will close this two-day conference with his theme, "The Abundant Life." His quiet, clear way of expressing himself was so helpful that everyone was eager to hear him again.

Luncheons to be served each noon will be in charge of Mrs. Frank Butler.

MAYOR'S WIFE INJURED IN MOTOR CRASH

Word was received this week by Mayor H. Clay Reavis from his wife, who was injured, when the Reavis car overturned near Mesa, Ariz., while Mrs. Reavis was driving east with her two uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Wooding and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mobley, of Bakersfield. The accident happened April 25 about 18 miles from Mesa. The occupants of the car suffered nervous shock and bruises, and although no one was seriously injured, Mrs. Reavis was taken to the hospital at Mesa overnight. The party is enroute to Southeast Missouri, and Mayor Reavis believes that they will have reached their destination this week.

It Happened In Monterey To Soldiers

Legionnaires Drop Close Tilt, 10-9; Exciting Pennant Race Looms Now

The Legion league pennant race tightened up considerably here Friday when the supposedly invincible Sierra Madre soldiers were toppled from the heights by Monterey Park—10 to 9, after they had the game sewed up. In the first frame the locals brought in five runs, and added a couple more for good measure in the second. It looked like easy frosting for their cake. In the fourth Monterey Park snagged two points. It still looked like clear sailing, as in the seventh the visitors garnered another pair but were matched by a local run.

Then—zingo! The valley players got steamed up, got Pratt's number and put five runs over the platter in the eighth inning and a single frame wasn't enough time for slapping 'em back in their place. Pratt and Gwyn both connected for home runs in the

April Showers Go On Shelf As Storm Rages In The Hills

April showers turned into a downpour in Sierra Madre Tuesday, and the downtown streets as well as Baldwin avenue and Lima street gushed in true winter fashion as a wild storm raged among the nearby peaks. The storm, which hovered about the mountains throughout the week, much to the discomfort of fishermen planning on all night camping Tuesday, brought 1.03 inches to the Sierra Madre dam area and set the year's total at 29.51 inches. This compares with but 22.39 last year at the same time.

ROOSEVELT CALLED RINGMASTER OF WHITE HOUSE AS McGROARTY CHEERS THE TOWNSENDITES

"Future Holds Brightest Hopes For The Plan" Local Congressman Says

By John Steven McGroarty
Member of Congress 11th California District

WASHINGTON, D. C. From the vast number of letters and telegrams I have received from home and all parts of the country, I take it that the people are eager to know just what is the status of the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan in Congress at the present time and what hope there may be for its future enactment into law. In response to these inquiries a statement of facts is obviously a requirement.

The Townsend Plan came up for a vote for the first time in the House of Representatives April 18th when the McGroarty Bill (H.R. 7154) was offered as an amendment to President Roosevelt's social security bill. Fifty-six members of the House voted for the McGroarty amendment providing an Old Age Pension not to exceed $200 a month as a substitute for the President's proposal of a pauper's dole of $15 a month.

Those fifty-six Congressmen constitute the vanguard of adequate pensions for the aged. They are the pioneers whose number will be constantly augmented until the great battle shall be won.

We who are waging the battle here in Washington have every reason to feel encouraged. No great legislation ever got off to a big a flying start. A bloody

Snake Gets Tangled Up In Fish Yarn

Rain Doesn't Dampen Local Anglers' Hopes As Sea-son Opens Wednesday

A serpent reared his ugly head into the early morning light Wednesday to throw the run-of-the-mill fish story into limbo.

The serpent is a personal friend of Judge Tom Neale, or we should say "was" for he now lies lifeless at the bottom of San Dimas Dam Lake. However this is getting ahead of the story.

Most of the local fisherladdies left the city in the bleak, rain-swept, wee sma' hours of May 1st, for San Dimas. It was rumored that there the trout would be jumping high and handsome. Entourage were the aforesaid Neale, Waverly Pratt, Councilman Preston Schwartz, Chief and Mrs. Gordon McMillan and two portable boats. Everybody but Mac made good catches, with Mr. Pratt hooking a 15 inch Eastern Brook and taking the limit.

Judge Neale reports that in the middle of the lake he stopped to rest. His line was out but so were the fish, for the time being. Next thing he knew (says he) a long thick serpent appearing creature started swimming toward his boat. He brought the paddle down on its substantial skull. It was (says he) a three foot diamond back rattler, with green eyes and ten rattles!!! That may be taken by all snakes as a lesson to hang their clothes on a hickory limb but not venture near the water...

Maybe because of the unpromising weather, not a great number of local anglers braved nearby streams on the opening day of the season. The four who reported, though, had their trip in a good cause. Henry Olsen and Lloyd Welch, and Robert and Edward Lalone, all say that the fishing was excellent in the Big Santa Anita stream above the dam. They all took the limit catches, although the area hasn't been planted yet this season.

Fire Warden Acts To Protect County In Power Line Row

At the request of County Fire Warden Spence D. Turner, the Board of Supervisors this week commenced debate on a proposed new ordinance to control the erection and operation of the high tension power lines through the foothill-San Gabriel Valley area.

Included in the Forestry official's suggested ordinance are provisions designed to protect the county financially from fire hazard, and to provide every necessary fire precaution in the event of the line's erection.

Future Holds Brightest Hopes For The Plan

war had to be fought to abolish human slavery in the United States. Twenty years of agitation and education were required to achieve women's suffrage. Years to bring soldiers' bonus to anything like attention. The repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment started with only three votes in Congress.

The future holds the brightest hopes for the Townsend Plan. It will come up again next January in the second session of the present Congress when it will undoubtedly make a far greater showing if, indeed, it does not fully succeed. If it fails in the second session of this Congress it will surely succeed in the next Congress if the vast Townsend forces hold fast and keep the faith.

When members of Congress return to their homes this summer the people should "talk turkey" to them. A lot of them will come back to Washington not so hot on the idea of jumping through the hoops every time the ringmaster in the White House cracks the whip.

The 75th Congress can be a Townsend Congress if the millions of Townsendites throughout the country use the ballot to make sure that only candidates sworn to the Townsend Plan are elected to Congress, regardless of political party affiliations.

It has been a glorious fight in which we have engaged and in which we shall continue to engage. It will be something good to talk to God about on the Last Great Day—to report our fight for His aged and helpless people who are so near to His heart.

A Dime's A Dime But It's $1,562.50 If All Goes Well

Brother can you spare a dime? If you can, just go out and look in your mail-box and in all probability you'll find a "prosperity club" chain letter awaiting you.

Sierra Madre has joined with all other civilized parts in taking up the Nation's newest get-rich-quick fad. Postmaster R. O. Caution reports that mail deliveries have increased 30 per cent since the first of the week, and every delivery is increasingly weighty with the dime and quarter laden envelopes.

In case there is still somebody running loose who hasn't been initiated into the secret (the odds are about 5000 to 1 against this possibility, however) the scheme works like this: You get a letter with a list of five names, scratch out the top name and mail that person a dime and add your own name to the bottom of the list. Then you make five copies and mail them to your "friends." Then you sit back and wait for $1,562.50 to come rolling into your lap. Are yuh waitin'?

Two Junior Women's Clubs Honor Mrs. John H. Robertson

Mrs. John H. Robertson of 371 Adams street was the guest of honor at two lovely affairs given recently by the San Gabriel and the Altadena Juniors. Mrs. Robertson has been the District Chairman of the Junior Women's Club for the past year and was honored in recognition of her loyalty and leadership.

A delightfully-arranged luncheon was given in her honor by members of the Altadena Juniors club on Saturday. On Sunday Mrs. Robertson was guest of honor at a Spanish tea given at the Woman's Clubhouse, San Gabriel.

The Spanish motif was carried out in the decorations and the waitresses for the tea were gaily dressed as Spanish señoritas. Mrs. Robertson was presented with a lovely pitcher of Mexican pottery.

During the afternoon the guests were taken by an official guide about the grounds of the old mission and its history was told by Thomas W. Temple, one of the authorities on early California history. The party visited a unique gourd shop, the old adobe belonging to Mrs. Lupe Lopez de Lowther, the Mission Playhouse and the Art Gallery.

Herbert Hoover Rose Takes Prize At Pasadena Show

Sierra Madre has again produced the best of its kind—this time, roses. The President Hoover rose, grown by Herbert Hoover, Jr., and named for his illustrious father, placed first in that division at the recent Spring Flower Show, held in the Civic Auditorium, Pasadena.

The roses were the result of much care and experimenting on the part of Herbert Hoover, Jr., at his home on Sierra Madre avenue. Display of these gorgeous blooms attracted much attention and admiration at the flower show, where they were one of the features.

5,000 Endeavorers Open Convention In Pasadena Tonight

SURPASSING the goal of 60 pre-registrations and the entertaining of 75 delegates by over twenty per-cent, Sierra Madre is fully co-operating to insure success of the 43rd annual convention of the Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor Union.

The event opens tonight in Pasadena and will hold sessions through Sunday evening. With over 500 delegates anticipated, many Endeavorers of this community went over to the rally and committee meetings held last night at the First Congregational church in Pasadena.

The convention will be opened tonight by Ray Runyon, president of the county union in simultaneous sessions at the First Methodist and First Congregational churches with Dr. M. Howard Fagan, of the Wilshire Christian church and Dr. Robert McLean of the Santa Barbara Presbyterian as the respective speakers on the subject of "Beginning a Christian Life."

The chorus of several hundred voices is the musical attraction at the Methodist church while the colored chorus from the Independent Church of Christ, Los Angeles, will be at the Congregational church. Registration headquarters is at the latter place.

Saturday morning features a pastors' conference at 9:45 to be followed by a business session at which the 1936 convention city and the officers for the coming year will be announced.

Merrill Smith will also be installed as president of the Pasadena division.

Woman's Society To Hold Flower Show Here On May 17th

The Woman's Society of the Congregational Church will hold its regular sewing and business meeting next Tuesday, May 7, in the Ladies' Parlors of the church. A large attendance is urged as some very important business is to be discussed and final plans made for the flower festival to be held May 17.

Mrs. A. J. Waters will bring the last of her series of Bible talks at 1:30 o'clock; the board meeting will start at 11:30 a.m.; luncheon at noon, followed by business at 12:30.

New members of the church are especially invited to be present. Everyone is asked to bring her own sandwiches. Coffee and tea will be served.

Mrs. Coffin was the widow of Samuel D. Coffin. She was born in Ohio and spent most of her life in Lawrence, Kansas. She came to Sierra Madre almost eight years ago, settling in the home on Grand View avenue.

ELLA SHEPARD BUSH STUDIOS SCENE OF ART RECEPTION; FINE MINIATURES HIGHLY PRAISED

For sheer beauty of color, charm of character drawing, and minute perfection, it would be difficult to surpass the miniatures of Miss Ella Shepard Bush. This was impressed anew on the throng of visitors who reveled in the showing of her work at her Hermosa avenue studio on Sunday and Monday afternoons.

Nearly two decades have passed since Miss Bush came from Seattle to make her home with her aunt, the late Mrs. Ella Townsend Stork. Miss Bush already had enjoyed a distinguished career as a portrait painter and art teacher. Since then she has confined her work almost entirely to the miniature field. The present showing was representative of the entire period, with perhaps forty examples of her work.

Remarkable to all was the sustained high quality of the work. At a time when most artists would be content to rest on whatever laurels had been achieved, by reason of failing vision or flagging ambition, Miss Bush has produced some of her finest works. Through the whole showing, are apparent the same charm and masterful execution. Miss Bush's miniatures have been shown at the Chicago and Philadelphia expositions as well as in New York, London and scores of lesser exhibitions. No showing of American miniature painters would be complete without her work, which is also represented in the permanent collection of the Corcoran art gallery in Washington.

During her residence in Sierra Madre Miss Bush has been the dean and mentor of a new generation of miniature painters in Southern California. She has guided many local artists, followed a variety of intellectual pursuits, and has been the benefactor, with her work, of a number of local institutions. So it may be said the visitors to her studio came not merely to enjoy her miniatures, but to pay tribute to one of Sierra Madre's most distinguished citizens.

Ladies who assisted in receiving studio guests were Mrs. A. E. Pulling, Miss Potter, the Misses Cynthia Hull, Martha Tiller, Margaret Bode and Catherine Bode.

VIOLINIST IS ACCLAIMED BY LARGE CROWD

Miss Elizabeth Morgridge further established her standing as a concert artist with the recital given at the Shakespeare Club in Pasadena Monday night. An audience of 400 persons, including many artists of importance in the musical world, paid enthusiastic tribute to her fine work.

A special round of applause greeted Miss Morgridge's rendition of Adagio from Harlow John Mill's "Italian Sonata," as Mr. Mills himself accompanied her on the piano. The audience was held spellbound by Bruch's melodious Concerto No. 2 in D Minor, as well as by the masterful playing of "Fountain d'Arethuse." Several encores were demanded.

During the intermission announcement was made that the Society of Appreciation of Youthful Endeavor in Music was awarding a $50 cash prize to Miss Morgridge for her splendid work. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was also presented to her by admiring friends, at the conclusion of the program.

About 25 members of the John O'Londond Literary Circle were entertained at a most delightful tea on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alice Sedgman and her daughter, Miss Olive Sedgman, 34 North Hermosa avenue, to meet Lee Shippey, local author, and Mrs. Winifred Walker, England's foremost flower painter. Ten year old Pat Walker rendered several clever recitals.

During the afternoon the guests visited the studio of Miss Ella Shepard Bush to see her exhibition of miniatures and were most enthusiastic about her exquisite work. Mrs. Walker has won many medals for her fine work and is a member of the Royal Horticultural Society of England and has had exhibitions in the Salon de Paris and in Philadelphia. She is visiting in California with her family for the winter and has spent some time painting wild flowers.

The nautical idea was carried out in a housewarming party given by Miss Cricket Caukin at the Caukin's new residence, 267 North Baldwin avenue, last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Madelyn Smith was winner of first prize and Miss Bee Connor was awarded consolation prize at bridge, while first award at bunco went to Miss Wanda Dogger and consolation prize was given to Mrs. Bertha Irvine.

Among the guests were Misses Ruth Klunk, Jane Holland, Angie Per Lee, Irene Middough, Beatrice Connor, Mary Frances Brain, Ruth Grant, Dorothy Bains, Dorothy Reardon, Dorothy Waisworth and Roberta Scott; Mrs. Evelyn Brain, Mrs. Juanita Lannan, Mrs. Myrna Cant, Mrs. Madelyn Smith and Mrs. Bertha Irvine, of Sierra Madre; Miss Madelyn Loomis, of Monrovia; Miss Wanda Dogger, Miss Margarita Braddock, Mrs. Lenore Braddock, Mrs. Alice Straun and Miss Gertrude Jensen, of Pasadena.

A surprise party, honoring the birthday of Mrs. Frances Germain Schuster, of 427 West Highland avenue, was given on Sunday at her home. The honoree was presented with beautiful gifts and flowers. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. Hartman, of Pasadena; Mrs. Brown, of Toledo, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Clay Schuler and daughter, Sally, of El Monte, and Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Hartman and baby, of East Pasadena.

TWO SIERRA MADRE MUSICIANS ENCHANT PASADENA AUDIENCE IN CIVIC SYMPHONIC CONCERT

Online Burrow Guest Violin
Soloist, Allen Thompson
Orchestra Member

THE Saturday evening performance of the Pasadena Civic Orchestra was replete with surprises and with two of the utmost pleasure. The lovers of Sierra Madre are not availing themselves of the opportunity of hearing this splendid organization its far too infrequent appearances are doing themselves as well as the orchestra a great injustice. I know of no city which provides its citizens with a similar cultural feast at all upon a par with this laudable civic enterprise, and doubt the existence of a finer amateur orchestra in the land. Pasadena is indeed fortunate in its possession, and in having so capable a conductor as Reginald Bland. His unswerving artistic ideals, energy and loyalty are responsible for much of its success, together with the able and fine spirit of President Sellers and the tireless devotion to the cause by the directorate.

The guest soloist was our own young artist, Online Burrow, who, in a splendid interpretation of the second Wieniawski concerto for violin, left little to be desired and gave much that was admirable. Her tone was warm and rich, her technique worthy of all the demands of a difficult composition, and she played with an ease which caused no little comment. The second movement Romanza was played with a rare beauty of tone and understanding. Particularly impressive was the brilliant handling of the concluding movement, and her tempo was both authoritative and thrilling.

Mr. Bland is to be congratulated for bringing to light the Symphony in F of the late Morton F. Mason, of Pasadena, with which the program opened. Here is a work I sincerely hope will find its way to the repertoire of the leading symphonies. It is a symphony of joy and of hope, filled with melodic beauty and great fertility of invention. The first movement symbolizes, to me at least—glorious Spring days when the very air intoxicates, and fleecy clouds drift lazily overhead in a sea of Heavenly blue; in a word, Springtime, youth, rejoicing. The second movement is lovely in its simplicity and beauty of melodic line. The third—Scherzo—overflows with humor; some of it roughish, most of it simple and effervescent. Some passages are positively cute—if I may be pardoned the word. Throughout the work, the composer used a wealth of most original and ingratiating thematic material. Unfortunately, the auditorium stage has no ceiling nor side walls, and the fourth movement obviously suffered as a result. The composition is truly a representative work of art of an American, and deserves a hearing in other parts of the country.

A very young man, Don Christlieb, has made an excellent transcription for orchestra of the Bach Toccata and Figure in D Minor with which the orchestra closed the program. This difficult work was given a fine reading, and in this, another of our townsmen, Allen Thompson, was heard to advantage in the woodwind section of the orchestra.

NEW FORD V-8s AID POLICE

Thirteen more Ford V-8s, the latest purchase of the Los Angeles Police Department, are inspected on delivery by Chief James E. Davis, Deputy Chief Padgett, Captain Weyerman, and Police Commissioners M. C. Neuner, H. C. Fryman, and C. N. Stevens. The new Fords have standard equipment throughout.

Thirteen more Ford V-8s, unluckily for law violators,—have just been added to the traffic department of the Los Angeles Police Department. This means that of the total number of sedans in the service, 192, or 71 per cent, are now Fords.

"The greatest tribute that can be paid to any car in police service," said Chief of Police James E. Davis, "is that it is ready to go at all times."

We have bought Fords every year since 1932, and we feel that Ford reliability has proved itself as impressive as its performance and economy."

For law-enforcement work, requiring easy starting, fast get-away and road speed, the Ford V-8 is rapidly becoming the favorite car in many other municipalities as well. Ford Motor Company officials say. Recently 85 Ford V-8s were added to the fleet of cars used by the police department of New York City, bringing the total number of Ford units used for police work up to almost 700 in America's largest city.

In California, where long, straight-away roads sometimes make a "chase" a real test of speed and pickup, 53 municipalities and several counties use Ford V-8s in police service, the Ford officials stated.

Local Democrats Rap Reds, Approve Laws Against Them

At the regular meeting of the local American Democracy Club in the Sierra Madre City Hall this week, resolutions endorsing bills before the California Legislature which aim at organizations or groups advocating the overthrow of our Government by violence were adopted and forwarded to the local Senator and Assemblyman at Sacramento. In the resolution was also incorporated the unqualified disapproval of the organizations of the bill to repeal the criminal syndicalism law. Its defeat was urged. A very pleasing program of cowboy camp-fire songs was presented by a local boy, Lody Larson.

The speakers of the evening were Maxwell Smith and John A. Kish, who spoke most forcefully in pointing out the dangers of loss of morale, loss of confidence and courage. Kish stated that the tendency seemed to be to expect Mr. Roosevelt to do a five year job in two years and that "so far only Mr. Dionne had been able to perform the feat of five years in one."

The next meeting is scheduled for the evening of Thursday, May 23, and will be open to the public. Speakers will be Robert Z. Adams, who built up the East Los Angeles area, a life-long Democrat and John Weir, formerly Sheriff of Pueblo County, Colorado.

Children's Dramatic Guild Invites Public To Its Garden Party Tomorrow

AFTER twice postponing the lawn party to be given by the Children's Drama Guild, the event will be held in the gardens of Muriel and Marjorie Royce's home at 629 West Orange Grove avenue, Saturday, from 2 until 5. The public is invited to participate in this worthwhile event. Tickets may be obtained from any Guild member. Transportation will be afforded to those not having cars by calling the director, at 1563.

The following children will appear on the program, Grace Jensen and Mary Lou Lovejoy (pupils of Cricket Calkin Studio) who are also Guild members, Wilma Smith, Patsy and Mary Moeller, Irene Lloyd, Margaret Adwell, Betty Askew, Clay Reavis, Donald Kasten, Evelyn Hoxema and George Tyree. Marjorie and Muriel Royce and Norma Hogan will act as hostesses. Mrs. William Adwell and Mrs. Flo Moeller will assist Mrs. Royce.

Patsy and Mary Moeller, Mary Lou Lovejoy and Sue Adwell received awards for excellence in the recent presentation of the Rompers. Sue is a dance pupil of Mme. Marian de Beaulieu.

Irene Lloyd presented an original play at the Saturday morning meeting. Betty Lou Lacey, Donna Jean Perry and Geraldine Lloyd took part in the play. The action was splendid. Irene won ten stars for this development in the Guild workshop. Betty Lou Lacey won first award for excellent presentation.

The director announced that names of children who will try out for the coming Community Playhouse productions will be sent in this week. Admirable work is being done by children who are members of the Junior poets' workshop, which is a new branch of Guild work. In the future a program of original poetry will be presented by a group of child poets.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

JUST because George Norris was unable to leave the feminine charms of the "movie" stars at the "Rompers of 1935," P.T.A. show, the firemen went without a feed last Friday evening. He was scheduled to prepare the "eats" for the meeting. He was one of the men assigned to duty behind the scenes at the school auditorium, but was to return in time to serve the lunch. The men actors were too much for George and he could not leave. And for this act of unkindness to animals, he is subject to severe penalty for the "Southwesters" were very hungry.

George was not among strangers while on fire duty at the school auditorium. Several of the firemen were there during the two performances. Marion Hayes and Louie Karger patrolled the aisles and worked up quite an appetite. Just as soon as the opportunity arrived, these two voracious smoke eaters "headed for the barn," only to be disappointed when they found no hay there.

The firemen are becoming soft at fire fighting just because there are so few fires and far between. However that is a good recommendation for the fire department as well as the residents of the town. But ever so often we find someone who will get a little careless about burning brush or trash. Last week at near the midnight hour, the night patrolman discovered a pile of grass and weeds flaming high. This was in the territory of many garages and high grass. A strong wind would have carried this and winds may come at any time.

This is being written before the return of the fishermen, so fish tales are yet to be heard. The biggest one we ever saw the boys get here would make a good bait for the kind we used to throw back in the river for lack of length. And these were caught with a bent pin for a hook and a willow branch for a pole.

PLANTS to set out now for Spring and Summer bloom are asters, zinnias, giant African marigolds, dwarf marigolds, ageratum, delphiniums, chrysanthemums, godetias, armerias, carnations, petunias, begonias, rust-proof snapdragons, columbines, verbenas, English daisies, iceplants, pentstemons, michelmas daisies, salpiglossis, gazanias and the Shasta daisies.

Plant dahlia bulbs now and tree, bush and climbing roses.

The giant Guinea gold African marigold with its large fluffy orange and yellow blossoms is splendid for cut flowers. The dwarf, small flowered, low growing marigold is very useful for edging beds or to scatter among the plants in a rockery.

The California sunshine asters are something new in asters. The flowers are large with their loosely arranged, lacy outer petals surrounding a raised and crested center. The whole appearance is light and fairy-like.

A complete orchard soil management course will be given for the benefit of orchardists on May 7, 8 and 9 at various places in the field, according to an announcement made by M. B. Rounds, farm advisor. The first day of this course, Tuesday, May 7, will take place in the laboratory of the Physics-Biology Building, University of California at Los Angeles, and the number attending will necessarily be restricted to the first fifty registered because of limited facilities at the laboratory. Those wishing to attend this first day should register with the Farm Advisor 524 North Spring street, Los Angeles, as soon as possible.

The program for this first day begins at 9 a.m. with a talk on "Water Relation in Fruit Trees—Its Fundamental Importance," by Prof. R. W. Hodgson. Other subjects will be "Water Requirement of Fruit Trees," by S. H. Beckett; "Cross-Transfer of Water in Citrus Trees," by Colin A. Taylor; "The Soil as a Reservoir for Water," by J. B. Brown; "Soil Moisture Constants in Relation to Irrigation Practices," by S. H. Beckett; "The Tree as an Indicator of Need for Moisture," by F. F. Halma; "Methods of Soil Analysis and Their Usefulness," by S. H. Cameron.

A field day on the subject of orchard irrigation and cultivation will be held on Wednesday, May 8, beginning at 9 a.m., at the Hurst Ranch, corner of Merced and Orange streets, West Covina. The following subjects will be discussed: "Orchard Tillage," "Causes and Effects of Cultivation—Sole and its Correction," "Demonstration of Cultivating Tools," "Furrow and Basin Methods of Irrigation," "Alternate Methods of Irrigation," "Installation of Furrow Irrigation Equipment," "Pump Efficiency," "Over Irrigation Evils and their Corrections."

The third day of the course on Thursday, May 9, beginning at 9 a.m., will be at the Edwin G. Hart ranch, La Habra Heights, moving at 1 p.m. to the Assembly Hall of the Murphy Ranch, Whittier. Special subjects for the day will be "Equipping Orchards for Sprinkling," "Drainage and Erosion," "Investigations Relative to Available Phosphates of California Soils," "Results of Fertilizer Studies," by Dr. L. D. Batchelor, Director of the Citrus Experiment Station, Riverside.

Other subjects of importance to the citrus, walnut and avocado grower are salinity of irrigation water, cultivation, irrigation and fertilization, all of which will be discussed at this three-day intensive course. Write the Farm Advisor for a copy of the program.

A special feature of the final session of this three-day orchard management course will be a summary of the whole course given by W. R. Schoonover, Extension Specialist in Citriculture, University of California.

FEW laymen realize how far-reaching is the study of art. Without art what a drab world it would be. Art does not limit one to the mere ability to produce a picture but it goes much farther. Art trains the mind through the eye and the eyes through the mind. Art trains one's hands to become more obedient servants to the dictates of the imagination. Art trains the eye to appreciate the beauty which seems about us all—an unseen beauty—by the great masses.

The progress of civilization can be measured by its advancement in art. Try to think of a single man-made creation—whether it be a tack hammer or a towering skyscraper, that is not indebted (in a more or less degree) to creative art. The chair you sit in—the lamp you read by—the stove which warms you, all, everything was first given birth upon the drawing board, beneath the hand of some artist. Art colors life as the sun colors the flowers.

Who can forget Kipling's immortal words?
"When the flush of a new born sun
Fell on Eden's green and gold,
Our father Adam sat under the Tree
And scratched with a stick in the mould;
And the first rude sketch that the world had seen
Was a joy to his mighty heart,
Till the Devil whispered behind the leaves,
"It's pretty, but is it art?"

Retouched Photographs Proof That Women Are Not Satisfied With Natural Beauty, Speaker Tells The Art Class

PHOTOGRAPHIC retouching, and its relationship to the elementary principles of tonal values in drawing, was the subject of a talk given by Joe Hinojos at the Municipal Art class at the Old Barn studio Monday night.

"Ever since the stone age," Hinojos said, "there has been the tendency on the part of human beings—especially women—to make up, and to beautify themselves. With the evolution of the ages have come ever-changing styles of make-up."

"Now we have come to that artistic invention—photography, which although it may seem comparatively old to some, has only recently made great strides in an artistic plane. Naturally enough the age old custom of self beautification and make-up has entered into photography—in the form of retouching. This process is in itself an art, and is extensively used by photographers."

"The purpose of retouching a photographic negative or print is to smooth out the blemishes and defects that the camera tends to exaggerate. Some retouchers who are really very clever, overdo their work and remove lines of character, thereby losing the likeness and modeling of the subject. This temptation is to overdo is without doubt the most serious pitfall the retoucher encounters."

Illustrating with examples of his work, Hinojos explained the fundamentals of retouching. The work on the negative is done with pencils and etching knives, he said, the lights and darks on the film being built up or re-

Local Auxiliary Makes Plans For Annual Poppy Day

SATURDAY, May 25th, will be Poppy Day in Sierra Madre. On that day the women of Unit 297 of the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute little red poppies on the streets to be worn in honor of the World War dead. The observance here will be part of the annual nationwide observance of Poppy Day, during which millions of Americans will pay tribute to the memory of the war dead by wearing memorial poppies.

Poppy Day activities here will be directed by a committee from the Auxiliary headed by Cecilia Stinman and Lee High. A large corps of volunteer workers will be organized to carry out the distribution of the flowers.

The poppies which will be worn here have been ordered from the San Fernando and Sawtelle Hospitals where they have been made by disabled World War veterans. The poppy making has provided employment for needy veterans through the winter and spring months, enabling them to help support themselves and families.

Public response on Poppy Day will determine how soon and how extensively this work can be reopened.

In exchange for the poppies, the Auxiliary women will ask each person to make a contribution for the welfare of the war's living victims, the disabled veterans, the widows and the fatherless children of veterans. This money will be used entirely in the welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary, the bulk of it in the work of the local Post and Unit.

A. L. A. Activities

By Helen Lovejoy

MAYBELLE Cole Barker gave an interesting talk on the life of Thomas Jefferson, at our last unit meeting. This was supplemented by Mrs. Grace Caukin and both proved highly interesting.

We had as our guest a very outstanding ex-service woman, Mrs. Ellen Baumann. Mrs. Jessica Wright acted as hostess, with Augusta Coats, and dainty tarts, sandwiches and coffee were served.

The child welfare desert bridge in Arcadia was a huge success. Our unit made up two parties of whom were, Catherine Miller, Mary Kiggins, H. Lovejoy, Orrella Stinman, Lella Embree, Anne Collins, Bonnie Roach, Mrs. Rapp, Mrs. Margaret Gerlach, Bertha Irvine, Mrs. M. S. Smith. Mrs. Roach winning the embroidered pillow cases.

There are 19 poppy posters made by 6-A grammar school pupils, two of which will be entered in the 18th district competition. The Flanders Field poppy is used as the theme.

Orrella Stinman, district junior membership chairman, presented a beautiful gavel to the newly organized juniors at Frank E. Washburn, Saturday, April 27th, at the first regular meeting.

Mother's Day will be observed at our next regular meeting, May 9th. A program will be presented by a group of members.

PEN SLANTS

By John Copeland

SMOKING on the school premises, of course, is against State and local regulations. But there are ways and ways of telling that to folks during public performances...

Then there's the kind hearted lady who phoned a friend, asked her if she wanted a ride up to the PTA benefit show—and charged her two-bits taxi fare.

HARRY HAWKHURST—Russian Hill transplanted to Sierra Madre.
GEORGE NORRIS—Papa Di-
onne on the installment plan.

Reprinted from a note some statistician had going the rounds this week: "Population of the United States, 124,000,000; eligible for Townsend pension, 50,000,000; balance, 74,000,000; Prohibited from working under Child labor act, and those working for government, 60,000,000—balance 14,000,000; unemployed, 13,999,998. Which leaves to produce Nations goods: 2. You and I—and I'm all tired out. I guess that leaves it up to you."

ART JOHNSON—A pout trying to smile, or visa versa.
LEE SHIPPEY—A drawl hiding under a wire mop.

Our annual wonderment: Ella Shepard Bush's exhibition of miniatures. The collection of exquisite lockets and tiny portraits represent an infinite amount of painstaking work. To say nothing of an equally infinite amount of artistry and genius.

Because Miss Bush is a retiring soul, even before she is an artist, comparatively few Sierra Madreans realize the place she occupies in American art. As in all like cases, hometown neighbors' prospective tends to prevent their true evaluation of this artist's work. National critics, unhampered thus, rank her among the very finest miniaturists in the world. After viewing her dainty masterpieces, one must be in complete agreement.

"Painting on ivory, as we do in the miniature," Miss Bush told us, "we are allowed a greater freedom than on other surfaces. The careful overlapping of colors, and the gloss of the ivory appearing through the pigments, of the paint, all tends to lend an opalescent quality...Also, it is possible to wipe out undesirable lines without destroying the texture of the surface as in scraping a canvass or erasing paper."

The peculiar framing given the larger miniatures results in almost three-dimensional appearance. The framed picture is usually set into a background of velvet, or an appropriate cloth, then the outer frame flares up around the entire art piece; so, looking through the double glass face, the miniature is set off in the same manner as a mounted gem.

Of course the tiniest locket miniatures are mounted in a gold or silver casing. The layman is completely bewildered as to how human fingers can be controlled to such beautifully precise work. Painting is done, as you know, under a powerful reading glass suspended on a frame above the easel.

In the course of Miss Bush's two day private exhibit, many of the world's noted artists came to her studio and were charmed by the gracious reception they received as well as by the lovely miniatures themselves.

PATTERSON LABOR DISPUTE BILL PROMISES BIG FIGHT IN CLOSING DAYS OF LEGISLATURE

Gives Promise Of Endless
Friction Between Employers And Employees

By Ralph H. Taylor
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

BROUGHT sharply into focus by recent labor disputes the Patterson bill, creating a State Board of Industrial Relations, with full power to arbitrate labor disagreements, promises to give the 1935 California Legislature new cause for battling during the closing weeks of the session.

Briefly sketched, the new arbitration act (B.A. 2407) calls for the establishment of a board of seven members—three to be selected by organizations of employers and three by organizations of employees, with this group of six naming the seventh member, who shall be neither an employer nor an employee and who shall serve as Chairman of the board.

The act would force the arbitration of all State-wide labor disputes—and compel compliance with the board's decisions and findings.

The State board, it is further provided, would be permitted to create county boards of industrial relations, empowered to arbitrate all local labor problems, with the members being chosen in the same manner provided in the present board set-up. Although the act grants the right of appeal from decisions of the local boards to the State board, action of the State body would be final.

The great danger in the Patterson act, unless it is subject to drastic revision, lies in the fact that it is wholly indefinite regarding the procedure to be followed in selecting the employer and employee organizations which, in turn, are to select the members of the State board and the various local boards. There are countless employee organizations, for example, and the question naturally arises: Who will determine the employee groups which shall have representation on the board? Illustrative of this point, the Communist Party, although a political party pledged to the overthrow of American government, would undoubtedly contend that it is an employee organization. And under the act it would have equal rights to representation with the State Federation of Labor!

It is also true that there are hundreds of employer organizations, representing scores of businesses and industries. Yet only three could be represented on a board which would hold the powers of life and death over virtually every trade and industry in the State. Who would determine, for instance, whether agriculture—the State's basic industry—would be entitled to a place on the new board, either in the employee group or on the employer's side of the table?

The California farmer, who holds the unique position of being both employer and worker, and who has paid one of the highest farm wage scales in the United States, is sincerely interested in any plan which will help to prevent serious labor disturbances.

But the farmer—and the farm laborer as well—would undoubtedly

Playhouse Exec. To Address Local Art Rendezvous

Charles Prickett, business manager of the Pasadena Community Playhouse, will be guest speaker on the Art Rendezvous program at the City Park House here Sunday afternoon. He is expected to give an exceptionally entertaining and instructive talk on the various artistic and technical phases of the world-famed little theatre in Pasadena.

On the same program will be Marie de Jeannerette, noted whistler, and Camille du Barry, poet and casting director for the Pasadena Shakespeare Club playhouse.

edly look with suspicion on any board structure which might bar him from any voice in arbitrating agricultural labor disputes. In its present form, the Patterson act seems equally dangerous to workers and employers.

If such a board were created it would undoubtedly precipitate a fierce fight for control on the part of both employers and employees.

And with the provisions for selecting the board personnel both indefinite and inadequate, there would be only the vaguest possibility of securing a balanced board which would be fair to all parties in its arbitration of labor difficulties.

TOWNSEND CLUB HERE TO CARRY ON THE BATTLE

"Just what has happened?" may sound like the title of a new mystery story, or even be the sequel of "Where Nothing Ever Happens" for all we know. But in this case it happens to be the question every Townsendite and non-believer is raising in relation to the situation in which the Townsend Bill is involved at Washington.

The original McGroarty Bill, as well as the revised bill, are still in the hands of the Ways and Means Committee.

The only thing that has really happened is that we have a little more knowledge of the strength of the Townsend Movement as shown by the vote.

The conduct of the Democratic membership during the debate on the McGroarty amendment compels the conclusion that the Administration whip has been applied.

Dr. Townsend sent the following staid statement to headquarters: "We shall fight to the last minute of the last day in the afternoon of this session, then take up the fight again on the first of January next. We do not quit!"

Meanwhile a new impetus has been gained and every Townsend follower is forging ahead with a deeper determination to win this crusade.

Pierce County, Washington, has accepted the challenge of Orange County to double the membership in the Townsend clubs by May 10th.

There is more reason at this time why you should continue sending courteous letters to your own senator, asking him to use his influence to substitute the Townsend Plan for the President's security bill.

As a reward for unstinted efforts displayed by the Sierra Madre Townsend club members and all citizens who have lent their generous aid to the Congressional fund, National Headquarters at Los Angeles, have seen fit to place the Sierra Madre Club upon the Honor Roll.

Many members of the Sierra Madre Townsend Club will attend the San Gabriel Townsend rally and basket picnic dinner to be held Sunday commencing at 10 a.m. at the city park in Baldwin Park.

Everyone should bring his own basket dinner, and free coffee, milk and sugar will be served. The afternoon program will open at 2 p.m., with several prominent speakers, presentation of guests and other features.

Mildred Curtis Boims.

SCHOOL BOARD NAMES NEW COMMITTEEMEN

An organization meeting was held by the school board on Wednesday afternoon at the Sierra Madre Grammar School. Rudolph R. Hartman, president of the board for the third term, will represent the finance committee for the coming year; Mrs. Ruth Klemme Bovard, teachers' committee, and Edwin W. Ward, Jr., building and grounds committee.

Revue Makes Hit With Two Night Stand

With Pat West, one of Hollywood's cleverest comedians and new Sierra Madre resident and home owner at the helm as master of ceremonies, the P.T.A. benefit "Romper's" revue wound up a highly successful two-night run at the public school auditorium Saturday evening.

Several acts were standouts, from the audience's reaction, the business men's "Revue of the Stars" number getting some of the best laughs. Bob Rigney as Jenn Harlow and Harold Roberts as Mae West brought down the house with their comic impersonations.

Bob Ward's comedy work in "Adam and Eve" was outstanding, and he was ably supported by Sadie Sellars and Mrs. A. E. Pulling. Applause greeted Miss Dorothy Pratt and Dan Parker in their musical number, "Park in Paris." The tap dancing trio of Perry Kortkamp, James Keleher and Bob Ward was highly enjoyable. Exceptionally clever comedy work was turned in by Frank Lovell, Dave and Jack Buchanan, and Francis Eakman, while Mrs. Janet Wood sang beautifully in the finale number.

In "Romantic," Mme. Marion de Beaulieu and her son Frank, Helen and Boyd Keith, and Flo

Sierra Madrean Appears In Three Pageantry Roles

Mrs. Waverly Pratt of Sierra Madre, took the leading role in an Easter Pageant staged in the Long Beach Music Study Club Wednesday, and also appeared as "Princess Elita" in "A Rich Young Ruler" at the Grace Methodist Church of the beach city Sunday. This coming Sunday Mrs. Pratt repeats the latter performance at the Long Beach Presbyterian Church.

Moehler and Joe Tiller were seen in a graceful waltz staged by Mme. de Beaulieu, Alma Morgan and Donald Thayer were featured in a romantic duet in this number. Later in the revue, Mme. de Beaulieu's junior pupils appeared in a ballet entitled "Sea Nymphs," displaying graceful movement that won much applause.

Many other persons cooperated in putting on the entertainment, and were well liked for their performances. Mrs. Pearl Virginia Steinberger directed, Mme. Marion de Beaulieu staged the dances, and Miss Moreland Kortkamp did a splendid job with the musical arrangements and accompaniments. Dan Parker acted as stage manager and supervised the construction of the sets designed by Jack Young.

Mrs. Boyd Keith, president of the P.T.A., wishes to publicly express the organization's appreciation to the many persons who cooperated in making the show a success.

Poetry Contains Vital Force Says Writer-Lecturer

"Poetry is no idle recreation but a vital force in that recreation without which we shall have but 'wreck-creation.' In other words, poetry is an active agent on the side of civilization in its bitter fight today with the forces of catastrophe," the Poetry and Music Club of Los Angeles was told on Wednesday by Ralph Cheyney, conductor with Lucia Trent of the Sierra Madre Poet's Workshop. This workshop is open not only to poets but also to all interested in poetry. It will hold its regular fortnightly meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Eakman, 195 Mariposa avenue. Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney lectured and read from their "Dreamers' House," now in its third edition, and other books to this Los Angeles group of musicians and poets.

The worst automobile accident casualty toll ever experienced in the United States was recorded last year when 36,000 persons were killed and nearly one million injured as a result of 882,000 personal injury collisions on streets and highways. Although practically two-thirds of the accidents involved driving errors, pedestrians paid the highest price in loss of life as shown by the death of nearly 16,000.

For Registration
Of Lemon Growers

The program committee appointed for Lemon Pro-rate Zone No. 1 to regulate the movement to market of the California lemon crop, has selected W. S. Shippey, as zone agent, to manage the program. Offices have been established at 804 Bendix Building, 12th and Maple street, Los Angeles.

All lemon shippers should immediately register themselves with the zone agent in order to secure their prorates from the start of the program. Growers who are not affiliated with any marketing agency should also get in touch with Mr. Shippey to obtain information about the marketing of their lemon crop.

Frank Webber, of Lamanda Park, is a member of the program committee.

Others assisting at that wonderful food booth were: Mes. W. E. Farman, J. F. Sadler and Johnson.

Mrs. Gen. Seeley and Mrs. Milton Hollingsworth presided over the candy booth.

Mrs. Copps saw that everyone was regaled with a light repast if they so desired.

The bridge was in charge of—of course you know, Mrs. James. The prizes of this diversion will be announced next week. I hope Mrs. Conard will enjoy her orange marmalade.

The 6:30 dinner proved a climax to a very delightful, if rather strenuous, day. People of ability are generally accepted as a matter-of-course in life; Mrs. Kitty Buie undoubtedly fills this niche. What hungry Sierra Madre businessmen and discerning housewives would do if they could not attend one of her savory dinners every once in a while, is a question. Over two hundred guests will verify this statement.

A program of much beauty was presented by Mrs. Milton Steinberger, including a "Moonlight Ballet" by pupils of Mme. de Beaulieu, who, also, is such a charming asset to this Wistaria Town.

Then Miss Moreland Kortkamp played the 3rd Movement in F minor of Brahms sonata, as well, as only a gifted musician of Miss Kortkamp's ability can play. She accompanied the community singing of the group to Mrs. Steinberger's baton.

Mrs. A. E. Pulling made a speech of gratitude for the co-operation of the neighbors; while Mrs. George Lehnner, the mastermind-behind-it-all, true to type, appeared, oh, very nonchalant and non-committal.

But now in regard to the dinner, Mrs. Kitty Buie's magical touch coupled with that of Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. Lillian Wheeler, and Mrs. Ida Obst saw that it was a proper finale to a wonderful day.

Local Newspaper
Advertising Pays
As Industry Gains

Industrial gains have been reported by the Government for the fourth consecutive month, says the Industrial News — an industrial employment and payroll during March reached the highest levels since the depression low point in the same month two years ago. Many of the key industries register increases. Then it adds: "It is well news that newspaper advertising has made a big increase in recent months, particularly in cities. Editors of local newspapers throughout the country might find it to their advantage to remind their former clients in the National and State fields and also the advertising agencies that it is high time to use newspapers that are printed in the places that have the best buying public in the Nation. The advantages of small towns and cities should be recognized as a potential force to help industrial gains."

Late statistics indicate that the general industrial upturn is continuing, with various industries coming close to the 1923-25 average, according to the Industrial News Review. The improvement in steel has been due principally to orders from the automobile industry. Fear is expressed in some circles that the recent rise has been too rapid—that recession will set in.
